

COMMUNITY SUPPORTED AGRICULTURE (CSA)

ORGANIC PRODUCE

DIRECT FROM THE FARM TO YOU
AVAILABLE WEEKLY

WHAT IS CSA?

CSA or Community Supported Agriculture is an alternative marketing technique where farmers sell a variety of products to a subscribed number of people. The clients receive the freshest, and in this case organic, produce at prices below retail. Thus, our local farming and community members support each other. High quality organic Big Island and O'ahu produce supplied to resorts and fine restaurants is now available to you through CSA.

Makahiki boxes vary each week, depending on what's available from the farms. They usually include exotic salad mix, leaf lettuces, spinach, and bananas. They may also include chard, kale, bok choy, fresh herbs, tomatoes, eggplant, beets, corn, cucumbers, avocados, papayas, poi, taro, and other seasonal items. Our Makahiki boxes now come in six options:

- Individual (variety of vegetables and fruits) $20 weekly
- Greens (contains leafy greens only) $20 weekly
- Fruit (contains fruit only) $25 weekly
- Gourmet ("Individual" plus specialty items such as sprouts, cucumbers, ginger) $25 weekly
- Family (contains larger portions) $300 weekly
- Salad (1 pound salad plus sprouts or avo) $15 weekly
- Eggs (half dozen or dozen whenever available) $4.00 or $7 weekly

DELIVERY: Makahiki boxes are dropped off at specified locations on O'ahu.
